Vote March 5th!

UFCW 324's candidate endorsements are determined through a member-led process with advice from the California labor community. Members meet with candidates and determine who has demonstrated their commitment to workers' futures, including higher wages, good quality jobs and health care, and the ability to stand up for themselves on the job.

The choices voters make this year will have long-lasting effects on working people, and we feel the candidates listed below will provide opportunities for, and support, working people and their families.
